

Description

Pull under bracket is used when a building has an overhang, to gain access to the windows below. A monorail track and suspension trolley are used to pull the stage under the overhang to gain access to the remainder of the building.

